The Halftime Institute utilizes a proprietary, collaborative process that combines teaching by Bob Buford, group interaction, personal reflection, and planning. This, combined with the expertise Halftime has accumulated over a decade of serving thousands of Halftimers, is why so many alumni consider The Halftime Institute a pivotal event that inspired and equipped them to address the core issue of the second half of life.

"Thank you for helping me to see what God has been trying to show me for some time. Or to see God's will in God's time."

- Chuck Bryant

"This definitely helped me to take abstract ideas and put them into more action oriented plans."

- Jeff Hudgins
