Unlimited Partnership, provides a roadmap for ministry leaders and marketplace leaders to partner more effectively.

The authors of Unlimited Partnership, Bill Wellons and Lloyd Reeb, have spoken to hundreds of groups of marketplace leaders over the past decade. Over and over they have heard them say “..I would love to be able to use my leadership skills in a leveraged way in my church, or through my church in my community, but most often at church I feel like a limited partner --- I put in the money, take very little risk and never get a chance to really lead.”

Instead these folks are longing for an Unlimited Partnership with their pastor. And many pastors are discovering how that is a win win for the church. This unique flip book is written for marketplace leaders to read from one side and ministry leaders from the other – providing each reader a clear understanding of the other and a simple process to begin effective partnerships.

Stuck In Halftime by Bob Buford. In the three sections of this compact volume, Buford examines why people get stuck in the second half, gives practical advice for getting unstuck, and offers help for living a second half with significance. An ideal, purposeful second half is one where work, meaning and happiness merge, and readers can be fully engaged in activities that match their skills, capacity and mission, he writes.
